Ref: File No: N-2206/111/2021-NI dated 6.12.2023.

Sir,

With reference to Rajya Sabha Starred/Unstarred Diary no. S2512 to be answered on 13.12.2023 regarding "Reducing the dependence of Persons with Disabilities (PwD) and other persons". The point wise replies are hereunder:

(a) The steps taken by the Government to reduce the dependence of persons with disabilities (PWD) on other people during the last three years:

- Skill / Vocational Empowerment: NIEPMD (D), offers comprehensive Skill Development programmes.
- Early Intervention: Dedicated Cross Disability Early Intervention Centre (CDEIC) for 0 - 6 years old as the improvement is maximum in critical age of development.
- Therapy services: NIEPMD provides various therapeutic interventions such as occupational therapy, speech therapy, behaviour modification and psychological counselling to enhance functional abilities and confidence among individuals with multiple disabilities.
- Educational empowerment - School: NIEPMD through its special education programmes focusses on empowering individuals with multiple disabilities.
- Free Aids & Assistive Devices: NIEPMD through its ADIP scheme provides assistive devices and also gives training in the use of assistive devices and technologies that facilitate greater independence. This includes mobility aids, communication devices, tools for daily living, teaching learning materials.
- Training programs: NIEPMD is also conducting many short term training programmes for general public, parents in terms of fostering the inclusion and self-reliance to reduce the dependency on others.

- Research and Development activities: NIEPMD is also conducting research and development activities aimed at discovering innovative solutions, techniques, and approaches that enhance the independence and quality of life for people with disabilities and in turn reduce the dependency on other people.
- Support & Guidance: NIEPMD also provides Support & Guidance to both the Govt & Private organization for identifying, employing person with disabilities as per the RPwD act 16.
- Other services: Financial empowerment programs through NDFDC, Legal advices & guidance, Support in Transportation Accessibility, Promotion of Accessible Banking Services etc. are also provided by NIEPMD (D).

(b) Whether any such technology is being installed by the Government to make the disabled people self-reliant;

- NIEPMD, Chennai, is implementing technologies like 3 D printing technology towards preparation of mobility aids for people with disabilities.
- NIEPMD DAIL has an ICT lab which caters towards enhancing the self-reliance and independence of people with disabilities, thus reducing dependency on other people.
- Power Braille printer and digital magnifiers, Braille kit for Visually impaired.
- Interactive sports lab, adapted sports & games suitable to meet the needs of all types of disabilities.
- E-content guidelines for Children with multiple disabilities.
- The digital Hearing Aids assist persons with hearing impairment to hear clear sound and make them take active part in daily activities, which reduces their dependency on other persons.
- AVAZ software for effective communication skills.
- Smart cane with sensors and vibrators for visually impaired.
- Accessible Educational Platforms by the Installation of Information and Communication Technology in the skill training courses.
- WhatsApp group among students with multiple disabilities and the Department.
- Accessible institutional Websites.
- Accessible institutional Transport for the clients with multiple disabilities.
- Accessible ATM at the campus.
- E-Governance Services.

(c) The efforts being made by the Government to make people with disabilities more technologically friendly?

The Government of India has taken several steps to make technology more accessible and beneficial for people with disabilities. Some of these efforts include:

- Accessible Websites and Portals: The government has mandated guidelines for ensuring that websites and online portals are accessible to people with disabilities. The Web Content Accessibility Guidelines (WCAG) have been adopted to make digital content perceivable, operable, and understandable for all users.

- Accessible Digital Services: Efforts have been made to ensure that digital services provided by the government, such as online forms, applications, and information, are designed to be accessible to individuals with disabilities. This includes features like text-to-speech, screen readers, and alternate text for images.
- Accessible Communication: The government encourages the use of accessible communication technologies, including video relay services for the deaf and hard of hearing, and captioning on televised programmes to ensure access for those with hearing impairments.
- Assistive Technology Initiatives: Initiatives have been launched to promote the development, distribution, and affordability of assistive technologies for persons with disabilities. This includes providing subsidies for assistive devices and encouraging research and innovation in this field.
- Skill Development and Training: Programmes and initiatives have been introduced to train people with disabilities in the use of technology. This includes training in the use of computers, smartphones, and assistive devices to enhance their digital literacy and independence.
- Legislation and Policies: The Rights of Persons with Disabilities Act, 2016, mandates equal access to information and communication technologies for persons with disabilities. This legislation ensures that people with disabilities have the right to access technology and digital services on an equal basis with others.
- Government Schemes: Various government schemes aim to provide financial assistance for the procurement of assistive devices and technologies to empower individuals with disabilities. These schemes aim to make technology more affordable and accessible.
- Mobile apps and websites are encouraged to adhere to accessibility guidelines, ensuring a user-friendly experience. Government websites are designed with accessibility, providing information in formats accessible to diverse needs.
- Awareness programs to educate both the public & private sectors about the importance of technology accessibility. Various well-equipped training programs are in practice to cater to the needs of individuals with disabilities.

These efforts collectively strive to bridge the digital divide and create an inclusive environment where people with disabilities can leverage technology to enhance their quality of life, access education, employment, and participate more actively in society. This reduces dependency on other people.
